Food Security, Gender and Resilience: Improving Smallholder and Subsistence Farming

Edited by Leigh Brownhill, Esther Njuguna, Kimberly L. Bothi, Bernard Pelletier, Lutta Muhammad and Gordon M. Hickey

The scope of the book is both local and multi-scalar. The gendered resilience framework, illustrated here with detailed case studies from semi-arid Kenya, is shown to be suitable for use in analysis in other geographic regions and across disciplines.

Biofuels, Food Security and Developing Economies

By Nazia Mintz-Habib

The author analyses the extent to which biofuels feedstocks fit within the national food security strategy, agro-export orientation and rural development plans and policies of developing economies. Two case studies, from Tanzania in East Africa and Borneo in Malaysia, are considered in detail. HB: 978-0-415-72970-3: ~~$145.00~~ $116.00 • 224 pp • December 2015

Food Wars: The Global Battle for Mouths, Minds and Markets, 2nd Edition

By Tim Lang and Michael Heasman

In the years since publication of the first edition of Food Wars much has happened in the world of food policy. This new edition brings these developments fully up to date within the original analytical framework of competing paradigms or worldviews shaping the direction and decision-making within food politics and policy. PB: 978-1-138-80262-9: ~~$49.95~~ $39.96 • 296 pp • October 2015

Civic Engagement in Food System Governance: A comparative perspective of American and British local food movements

By Alan R. Hunt

This work presents primary evidence from over 900 documents, interviews, and participant observations, and provides the first descriptive history of local food movement national policy achievements in the US, from 1976 to 2013, and in the UK, from 1991 to 2013, together with reviews of both the American and British local food movements. PB: 978-1-138-88843-2: ~~$145.00~~ $116.00 • 276 pp • October 2015

Cities and Agriculture: Developing Resilient Urban Food Systems

Edited by Henk de Zeeuw and Pay Drechsel

The book provides urban planners, local policy makers and urban development practitioners with an overview of crucial aspects of urban food systems based on an up to date review of research results and practical experiences in both developed and developing countries.

Food Sovereignty in International Context: Discourse, politics and practice of place

Edited by Amy Trauger

This book is a collection of empirically rich and theoretically engaged papers across a broad geographical spectrum reflecting on what constitutes the politics and practices of food sovereignty. They contribute to a theoretical gap in the food sovereignty literature as well as a relative shortage of empirical work on food sovereignty in the global "North", much previous work having focused on Latin America.

Human Rights and the Food Sovereignty Movement: Reclaiming control

By Priscilla Claeys

The book assesses efforts to achieve the international recognition of new human rights for peasants at the international level, namely the 'right to food sovereignty' and 'peasants' rights'. It explores why La Via Campesina was successful in mobilizing a human rights discourse in its struggle against neoliberalism, and also the limitations and potential pitfalls of using the human rights framework.

The Water, Energy and Food Security Nexus: Lessons from India for Development

Edited by M. Dinesh Kumar, Nitin Bassi, A. Narayanamoorthy and M.V.K. Sivamohan

It is becoming increasingly recognized that for the optimal sustainable development and use of natural resources, an integrated approach to water management, agriculture, food security and energy is required. This "nexus" is now the focus of major attention by researchers, policy-makers and practitioners. In this book, the authors show how these issues are being addressed in India as part of its economic development, and how these can provide lessons for other developing nations.

Reclaiming Food Security

By Michael S. Carolan

In this challenging work, the author argues that the goal of any food system should not simply be to provide the cheapest calories possible. A secure food system is one that affords people and nations – in both the present and future – the capabilities to prosper and lead long, happy, and healthy lives.
